“We are very happy to appoint Gnosis as our business partner,” said Sandeep Kumar, managing director of ProductDossier. He further adds “this partnership will speed up the process of taking our PLM products and solution to customers. We were looking for a partner who understands the PLM space and shares our vision of providing simple, scalable and secure solutions just at the right price. Armed with Gnosis we will be able to deliver more value to our customers”

ProductDossier’s flagship application PDServer™-PLM offers powerful capabilities to manage disparate product/program/project information while allowing control of resources and time for the full lifecycle of the product. PDServer’s simplicity of use and easy configurability make it ideal for rapid deployment.
