ProductDossier Newsletter

"Welcome we're thrilled to have you here - enjoy the latest edition of our newsletter!"

Unleash Your Organizational Intelligence!

The disruptive forces of recent times have a new addition - Artificial Intelligence! As the world grapples with AI's enormous impact, one thing stands out -Work and organizations will get infused with AI technologies.

From the CEO's Desk

In our previous newsletter, we stressed the need for strengthening the organizational core and improving agility for riding on turbulent markets. ProductDossier Solutions has been assisting it's customers for this purpose.

Powered by AI, the ProductDossier PSA will help in improving resource utilization and productivity. It will provide more accurate resource forecasts. It will help in matching the bench resources against the open resource demand from projects and opportunities. The PSA will provide predictive and prescriptive analysis of project delivery and billing. There are more capabilities in the pipeline!
We have made key additions to our management team keeping in mind our direction mentioned more.

Like in the past, we have continued with our industry outreach with our ideas and products keeping in mind our role as a thought leader and enabler.
Happy to share information on the above in this newsletter.

The ProductDossier Professional Services Automation (PSA) platform is uniquely placed to leverage end-to-end operations data using AI technologies. Our customers will be in a great position to unleash their organizational intelligence.

Reaching Out to Industry
